

Bambi Years

Bambi Academy planted the seed that has kept me in pursuit of academic excellence, endless curiosity, and tenacity in the face of life's toughest challenges. I graduated Bambi in 2008 under the tutelage of teachers and friends to whom I owe wonderful and unforgettable childhood memories. Thanks to my years in Bambi, I have achieved numerous professional and personal achievements. I graduated with two degrees from Brooklyn College, public accounting and finance, and currently work for a global commodities trader as a money manager and run an accounting firm that manages company books and establishes revolving credit with banks. I like to spend my time on hobbies such as learning and teaching history, economics, and Judaism. I have remained close with my friends and stayed with them through difficult times in their lives as they did for me. I am extremely grateful to all my teachers for what they shared and taught me over my decade long span at Bambi. Goodluck to all students, present and future ,and appreciate every moment being there!

Best,
